Donation to Offset Conference-generated Carbon Emissions:

CERF conference activities impact climate change by generating carbon emissions. Such activities include participants' air and ground transportation, plus electricity and natural gas usage at the convention center and other event facilities. We invite you to donate to the first CERF Conference Carbon Emissions Offset Fund. One hundred percent of each contribution will support community-based carbon sequestration projects such as planting and restoring salt marshes and planting trees. This contribution is tax deductible. Donations may be made separately. Contact the conference management office for information.
